

Description of the Toyota Automotive Engineering College of Kobe

TOYOTA KOBE

The Toyota Automotive Engineering College of Kobe is a vocational school for automotive engineering established by Toyota Motor Corporation.

Its purpose is to provide students with training in Toyota's advanced technology and practical maintenance technology, in order to develop experts in the automotive field who will become the leaders of our age.

Students attending the school also include international students from foreign countries, who will be qualified to work as automobile mechanics for Toyota in Japan after their graduation.

Applications for International Students

Eligibility Requirements for Entrance Examinations

1. Applicants must have received school education in their home country or another country for a total period of 12 years or longer.
2. Applicants must meet one or more of the following conditions (1) to (5) regarding their Japanese language ability.
 - ① Applicant has received Japanese language education at a Japanese language educational institution indicated in notifications made by the Minister of Justice, for a period of 6 months or longer and with an attendance rate of 90% or higher.
 - ② Applicant has passed the N1 or N2 level of the Japanese-Language Proficiency Test (JLPT) administered by Japan Educational Exchanges and Services (JEES) and the Japan Foundation.
 - ③ Applicant has obtained a total score of 200 points or higher in Japanese language reading comprehension, listening comprehension, and listening-reading comprehension in the Examination for Japanese University Admission for International Students (EJU) administered by the Japan Student Services Organization (JASSO).
 - ④ Applicant has obtained a score of 400 points or higher in the BJT Business Japanese Proficiency Test administered by the Japan Kanji Aptitude Testing Foundation.
 - ⑤ Applicant has received education for a period of 1 year or longer at a school stipulated by Article 1 of the School Education Act (excluding kindergartens).

Information regarding Applications

All classes will be conducted in Japanese. At the time of admission, international students must be able to understand Japanese at the N2 level of the Japanese-Language Proficiency Test or an equivalent level.

All applying international students must visit the school before submitting their applications. Explanations on matters including an overview of the school, employment opportunities, systems for assistance with various expenses, and a general summary of the entrance examination will be provided individually.

i When visiting the school, please make an appointment by telephone in advance.

【Entrance Examination Office】 0120-763-124

Examination Subjects

学科	試験科目
2-year program	Interview examination + Basic Mathematics + Japanese as a Foreign Language (equivalent to JLPT level N2)
4-year program	Interview examination + Basic Mathematics + Japanese as a Native Language + Japanese as a Foreign Language (equivalent to JLPT level N2)

Assistance with Various Expenses for International Students

The school offers an educational assistance system specifically for international students, which can provide partial exemption of payments.

For details, please see the Student Admission Guidelines.